About Sicura

Sicura's world-class services deliver innovative technology and creative solutions for the IT, Broadcast Media and Security industries.

Using our extensive experience of managing complex information streams to develop reliable, resilient and scalable products.

What motivates us?

At Sicura we are inspired every day by the way customers use our software products. We find solutions for their businesses and develop innovative ways to keep them in control of what matters to them.

Sicura places great emphasis on Research and Development; we reinvest more than 35% of our net profit back into the company to guarantee that we keep providing innovative products, services and solutions.

What do our products offer?

Sicura's products provide rapid access for the end-user, enabling them to manage, control, stream, play, record, and audit content. Our applications allow the operator to administer multiple systems via an intuitive interface.

Our products

Sicura develop software and product solutions for the IT, Broadcast Media and Security markets. These are used worldwide to connect, manage and protect our customers assets.

Our portfolio includes:

- ¥ DigiWall
- ¥ DigiLive
- ¥ DigiArchive
- ¥ DigiLapse
- ¥ Vital
- ¥ DigiSentry
- ¥ DigiSCADA.

Services

In addition to our core off-the-shelf products, Sicura offer many additional services.

Consultation

Sicura know how to make software and hardware work together effectively, and back that up in the way that you would expect from a leading solutions provider.

We regularly undertake consultation services on behalf of our clients and develop specific solutions for the end-user that fit our mission statement of driving down operational costs and increasing business efficiency.

Development

this enables us to integrate legacy analogue systems with IP-addressable technology.

Rebranding

we supply white label products and technology to third parties.

Training

we recognise the importance of keeping our channel partners up to date with the latest advances in technology, and provide appropriate training to achieve this.

Testing

we offer our customers system testing before solutions are deployed in live environments. Factory Acceptance Testing (FAT) guarantees that our systems will meet the requirements of end-users.
